

In order to use the scattered light from the back side of solar cells, we need reduce its reflections of back side. For the front side, the light direct shine on it and we use pyramids (Fig. 1) to reduce the reflection.

For the scatted light, what shape and size of textured surface can reduce reflection best?